BANKING AND FINANCE

Critchfield's attorneys have extensive experience advising and representing banks and other types of financial institutions in all areas of consumer and commercial lending.

We counsel our banking and financial services client on a number of issues, including:

- Diversified Transactions
- Operating Subsidiaries
- Trust Preferred Offerings
- Securitization of Commercial Paper
- Commercial Loan Documentation
- Equipment Financing
- Real Estate Development
- Construction Lending
- Business Capital Financing
- Regulatory Compliance
- Bank and Thrift Acquisitions and Mergers
- Deposit Sales and Purchases

Our firm also helps to ensure regulatory compliance for our clients with the Federal Reserve, Office of Comptroller of the Currency, and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Our experience has also included bank and thrift acquisitions and mergers, deposit sales and purchases, and other matters involving transactional structure.

Our banking and financial services attorneys work closely with our firm's attorneys in other practice areas, including business and corporate law, real estate, and litigation to provide comprehensive services to our financial industry clients.
